

The Prince of Wales black resin miniature is very easy to work with. The turrets are molded as part of the ship. Only one hole needs to be drilled for the stand. There is only one ventral fin to mount. After filing the seam lines and washing off any debris, the ship is ready to prime and paint.